

Who: My Father

He is an influential figure to me.

What My Father Did.

He was a part of the Navy, and was also a Marine. Then when he left he moved to Chicago and met my mother. He is very influential to me, when it comes to doing the right thing. And making me laugh along with other people.

Where My Father Started.

My father has 4 other siblings and his mother died when he was 14 and I never got to meet her. He was born in New Jersey, then he lived with the Navy and Marines, then came to Chicago, then went to Philadelphia to live with his twin brother, and now lives in Delaware.

When My Father Did All This.

At the age of 18 he joined the marines then left at the age of 23 to go to college. Then after college he joined the Navy.

Why My Father Did This.

My father did all of this, because it was good for him to do something for his country, and he was able to then leave go to college and meet my mom than get married, then have my brother and I. That is why he decided to join the Navy and the Marines to do something that matters.
